

The Visual Arts Program of the Lewis Center for the Arts presents

Film series: Cinema Today

GOD KNOWS WHERE I AM BY JEDD AND TODD WIDER

God Knows Where I Am tells the story of Linda Bishop, a well-educated mother suffering from severe bipolar disorder who wandered away from her psychiatric hospital, never to be seen alive again. The film is the latest production of Jedd Wider '89 and Todd Wider '86, Oscar-winning film producers and documentary filmmakers

Screening followed by a discussion with the filmmakers and actor Lori Singer
April 13, 2017
7:30pm

Princeton Garden Theatre
160 Nassau St, Princeton
Ticket information available at princetongardentheatre.org
Free for Princeton University students, faculty, and staff

LEWIS CENTER
VISUAL
ARTS | arts
arts.princeton.edu