

2018 María Irene Fornés Institute Symposium

April 12-14

Symposium at Princeton University

April 12

Lecture on “The Dramatist’s Call to Action” by Assistant Professor of Theater Brian Eugenio Herrera, delivering the 2018 James Baldwin Lecture (sponsored by the Department of African American Studies)

April 13

Public Conversation addressing “The Playwright’s Pedagogic Legacy” with Migdalia Cruz and Mac Wellman, moderated by Dr. Anne García-Romero.

April 14

Full Day Dedicated to All Things Fornés including plenary sessions, hosted conversations and workshops, book exhibit, living legacy installation, screenings, and performances.

Performances by
Princeton’s Program in Theater

April 13-21

*I am in 5th grade,
you are in Kindergarten*

Two short plays in honor of María Irene Fornés
FNU LNU by Mac Wellman and a
Princeton-commissioned play by Migdalia Cruz,
The Book of Miaou: Don’t Drink Everything
Your Mother Pours You

April 12-15

a production of Fefu and Her Friends
by María Irene Fornés

April 15

Colloquium at
New York University

Featuring a panel of experts on Fornés, a roundtable of women directors discussing the influence of Fornés’ directorial work, and a concert reading of Fornés’s musical Promenade.