

Reading and Launch of NEPANTLA, An Anthology Dedicated to Queer Poets of Color

presented by the Lewis Center for the Arts in collaboration with

Lambda Literary

and cosponsored by

Labyrinth Books

Princeton Arts Fellow Erika Sánchez hosts a reading by poets Natalie Diaz, Dawn Lundy Martin, and Christopher Soto in celebration of the launch of Nepantla, the first anthology in the English language that spans approximately 100 years of queer poets of color, from the Harlem Renaissance until the present, including work by Langston Hughes, Robert Hayden, Audre Lorde, June Jordan, Erika Sánchez, Natalie Diaz, and Eduardo C. Corral.

May 1 @ 4:30 p.m.

WALLACE THEATER at Lewis Arts complex

Reception and book sale at 4 p.m. in the Forum

Free and open to the public arts.princeton.edu